London, March 17.

Yesterday arrived the Mail from Holland of Friday last.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated March 23. Naples, February 27.

TWO Ships which are arrived here from Barcelona have brought an Account, that when they came away 6 Men of War belonging to the Barceloners were at Anchor before that Port, to observe the Ships of War of the Spaniards, who threatened to block up the Place by Sea: That the Barceloners in a Sally had defeated two Spanish Regiments; and that Vich had revolted against the Spaniards, because of the Violences which they had exercised. We have an Account from Sicily, that the Duke of Savoy having viewed the Fortifications of Trapani, Messina, and Agosta, had fixed his Departure for Piedmont to the End of April or Beginning of May.

Genoa, March 4. A Catalonian Ship which is come in here from Mataro, has brought an Account, that the Spanish Fleet were before Barcelona, expecting the Arrival of the three Men of War of the Chevalier Mari's Squadron, which this Ship met at Capo Corvo; but that the Departure of the four French Ships of War fitted out at Toulon, had been retarded, some Preparations not being yet ready.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated March 23.

Genoa, March 8. By the Ship that is arrived from Catalonia we learn, that the City of Barcelona seeing the Necessity of standing a Siege, had caused the Women, Children, and uleless Mouths, to be transported to Majorca, with Effects to a great Value; and that they had received from that Island a good Supply of Provisions. We have further Advices from the Coasts of France, that the Duke de Popoli had begun to Bombard Barcelona by Sea and Land, and that the Besieged answered vigorously by a great Number of Bombs and Grenadoes, which they shot into the Enemy's Camp. That all the Catalonian Shipping were rendezvousing at Majorca, with design to go and attack the Spanish Fleet, which though it consist of above 40 Sail, has but 5 or 6 Men of War of any considerable Strength, most of the rest being but Transport Ships. They add, that the Catalonians having put to the Sword two Battalions, which they had Prisoners some Days, the Spaniards were so intaged at it, that they gave no Quarter to any Catalonians who fell into their Hands.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated March 23.

Milan, March 10. We have Advice from Vienna, that by Order of the Imperial Court there are ten German Regiments on the March for this Country; but it being rumoured that the Duke of Savoy has offered to restore to this State the Lomelline and the Alexandrin, and it being also said that by his Order the Fortifications of Novara are begun to be razed, 'tis supposed that Place may be given back to the Emperour, by virtue of some secret Treaty. In the mean while the Council here have thought fit to be on their Guard on that Side if Occasion require; and to cause Novara to be fortified, whether considerable Stores of Ammunition are already ordered.

Vienna, March 16. The Express which was expected from Rastat so impatiently, is at length arrived this Morning; and the News he has brought of the Conclusion of Peace between the Emperour and the King of France, has caused universal Joy in Court and City, though the Conditions are not publicly divulged.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated March 23.

Stockholm, March 3. The five following Questions have been debated in the Assembly of the States of this Kingdom. I. Whether the States might make Peace in the King's Absence. II. Whether the Senate had Authority to enter into a Negotiation for that purpose, without the Consent of the Sovereign. III. In what Manner Peace ought to be made. IV. How the Army may be filled up and be well appointed for Service, in case a good Peace cannot be obtained. V. And against what Enemies the greatest Forces ought to be employed. Upon which these Resolutions passed. I. That the King having been Absent so long a time, and his Return uncertain, nothing was more advantageous for the Kingdom than Peace. II. That in this Juncture the States were of Opinion the Senate might enter into a Negotiation for Peace. III. That four Ambassadors should be nominated, and vested with full Power to accept or reject Conditions, as they should think fit. IV. That all the young Men of the Kingdom should be obliged to take Arms for its Defence. V. That the greatest Number of Forces ought to be employed against the Russians, as being the most powerful Enemies. In the mean time the Princess Ulrica-Eleonora has declared, in Quality of Regent of the Kingdom, that she could not give her Consent for Peace, because she has no Instructions on that Subject.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated March 23.

Frankfort, March 18. We already begin to enjoy the Fruits of Peace, for Men may now pass and re-pass the Rhine without Pass-ports, and Boats laden with Provisions go without Convoy to Philipsbourg. The French Officers are likewise permitted to come into Mentz, Mannheim, and other Places.
